

FIND MANUFACTURING EFFICIENCIES AND ALLEVIATE LABOUR RELATIONS HEADACHES

PPO's Business Process Outsourcing (BPO) is the solution provider you need to put the growth back in your manufacturing operation. By providing the flexibility and agility that businesses need to foster growth and find industry stability, we help you make the most of your resources.

Our country's unique challenges

-  Hindered by high labour costs
-  Strong union influence
-  Uncertain labour conditions and red tape

There is a direct correlation between high wages, output, and a business's bottom line. Employed permanently, labour is a fixed cost. If there is a labour disruption, the business output is decreased which affects the ability to manage business costs, such as wages.

OUR MANUFACTURING SOLUTIONS

Working with us as your BPO provider is a strategic move that shifts the labour risk from you to us. In the manufacturing industry, variability is key to survival, either as a startup, or for an enterprise seeking to become more agile in the manufacturing space.

Shifting the previously fixed cost of labour to a variable cost (one that's based on output) is a solid way to increase operational efficiency with predictable costs. Not only does this shift the cost of labour, but it also removes labour-related risks and compliance issues from the business itself.

How PPO proactively increases efficiencies:

By outsourcing non-core components of the manufacturing value chain, businesses can make available the capacity and resources to focus on product innovation and service growth to develop international competitiveness."

Provides flexibility based on mutual trust and collaboration

Identifies challenges and rapidly develops solutions

Helps unlock business agility

Responds rapidly to changing market demands
